

crossing points of the fundamental harmonic of system supply line voltage as character synchronization events.